ABOUT ASHLEY

Ashley is a dual qualified Chartered Accountant (ICAS) and Chartered Tax Adviser (CIOT), with 6 years of experience working solely within R&D tax.

Prior to his qualifications he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Business Management from King's College London with First class honours.

Ashley began his career as a Graduate Trainee within the Corporate Tax team at KPMG in London, where he undertook his qualifications at the firm's Tax Business School delivered by ICAS. Following this initial period of study, he was streamed to the Innovations Reliefs and Incentives team, which provided him with ample experience both with the SME scheme as well as with the RDEC regime for larger companies.

Following his qualification and prior to joining MSC R&D. Ashley moved to EY where he continued to work within the R&D tax function with a greater focus on the RDEC regime. Ashley was responsible for training and managing new joiners to the firm in addition to handling client engagements ranging from start-ups to the super large entities (> £1bn in turnover).

Ashley's qualifications and experience have given him a deep understanding of the R&D regime, which enables him to maximise the value obtained from each R&D study whilst maintaining compliance as first priority.
